Toby's Foundation Marks its 4th Anniversary!

Two outstanding researchers, Dr. Ned Patterson at the University of Minnesota and Dr. Hannes Lohi at the University of Helsinki, are doing research on canine epilepsy in the Australian Shepherd to find the gene(s) responsible and develop a screening test.

The timing and the tools available have never been better!

Thank you for your support! Without it we would not have accomplished all that we have.

Please continue to help by donating blood and making a donation for canine epilepsy research.
