

We still have some tracks to make!

Join Stetson in the fight against canine epilepsy

Stetson is 11 years old and has been living with epilepsy for over 8 years. His life has not been easy but Stetson is still fighting this disease and we are too!

Since getting a significant hit on one chromosome the researchers are sequencing genes in that area to identify the gene(s) causing or contributing to IE in the Australian Shepherd. Once they identify a confirmed mutation the researchers will develop a DNA based genetic test for Aussies.

To donate a blood sample from your dog to the University of Minnesota and/or to make a donation to Toby's Foundation to help us in the fight against canine epilepsy please see the information below.
