

Don't Let Their Dreams Be Shattered...
Their Future Depends on YOU!

There are not enough complete families in the research study. It is very important that we have complete family information from all affected dogs and their relatives (both affected and unaffected siblings, parents, grandparents and offspring).

Please do everything you can to get blood samples submitted for the research from all of your dogs' relatives.

If you have a dog affected with canine epilepsy or have a dog related to one,
have you given blood yet?

Epilepsy threatens the future of our breed—please give blood!

To give blood, contact Liz Hansen, Research Coordinator, University of Missouri, College of Veterinary Medicine. Email: HansenL@missouri.edu, Phone: 573-884-3712, www.canineepilepsy.net
